Back on the Trails Again!

Wasootch Ridge June 4, 2020

After several months of semi-isolation and relative inactivity due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the day finally came when our club was able to start hiking together in small groups. I chose to go with Greg's group to Wasootch Ridge as the views from the ridge are wonderful and the hard grunt is over with early in the day!

Once we had all arrived by car at the parking area, Greg gathered us together in a large circle and clearly outlined expectations around the need to social distance at all times.

The weather cooperated which made the day even more enjoyable although I feel we would have all had a fabulous time in any conditions. We were just so happy to be back together in our beloved Rockies! Part of our group split off and continued on to the farthest cairn while the rest of us were satisfied to have our lunch at the second cairn before heading back down.

A big thank you should go out to all of the people who have offered to lead hikes. Our short hiatus has made us all feel even more grateful for the camaraderie of the club and we are thankful not even a pandemic could stop us from doing what we love!
